DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 01/28/08 has been entered.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the rejection of claims 1, 3, 4, 8, 10, 11, 15, 19 and 20 under 35 U.S.C. § 102 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claims Duplicate, Warning

Applicant is advised that should claims 1, 8 and 15 be found allowable, claims 4, 11 and 20 will be objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate thereof. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 1, 4, 8, 11 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Regarding claims 1, 4, 8, 11, 15 and 20, the condition for evaluating at least one other query, i.e., after interrogating the database has begun while processing the first query, was not described in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1, 3, 4, 8, 10, 11, 15, 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Graves et al. [USP 6,785,675 B1] in view of Periwal [USP 6,463,776].

Regarding claims 1, 4, 8, 11, 15 and 20, Graves teaches an apparatus, program and method comprising:

at least one processor (A processor is an inherited feature of server 115 as in FIG. 1); a memory coupled to the at least one processor (A memory is an inherited feature of server 115 as in FIG. 1); and a database query processor residing in the memory and executed by the at least one processor (Col. 3 Lines 20-21), the database query processor processing a first query to a database to generate a first result set by interrogating a the database (Col. 4 Lines 25-26 and Col. 3 Lines 20-30), and while processing the first query evaluates at least one other query that is received during the processing of the first query to determine whether the at least one other query is satisfied by the first result set (Col. 4 Lines 27-28 and Col. 3 Lines 20-30), wherein the database query processor returns the first result set to the first query and uses the first result set to generate at least one other result set for any of the at least one other query that is satisfied by the first result set without caching the first result set and without interrogating the database for the at least one other query (Col. 4 Lines 40-67).

The missing of Graves is the condition for evaluating the second query. Grave does not teach that the evaluating the second query is after interrogating the database has begun.

Periwal teaches that a database is interrogated with the SELECT statement while processing a query (Periwal, FIG. 14 A, Box 1412).

Therefore, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include the condition as taught by Periwal into Graves apparatus, method and program in order prepare the information for the query.

Regarding claims 3, 10 and 19, Graves and Periwal, in combination, teach all of the claimed subject matter as discussed above with respect to claims 1, 8 and 15, Graves further discloses the database query processor delays processing a plurality of received queries, groups compatible received queries together, generates a new query for each group that will produce a result set that will satisfy all queries in the group, processes each new query, and generates from the result set of each new query at least one other result set for queries in the group corresponding to the new query (FIG. 3, Col. 3 Lines 20-65 and Col. 4 Lines 17-55).
